

Helpful websites for E-Safety:

Organisation/Resource	What it does/provides?
thinkuknow	NCA CEOPs advice on online safety
disrespectnobody	Home Office advice on healthy relationships, including sexting and pornography.
UK Safer Internet Centre	Contains a specialist helpline for UK schools and colleges
South West Grid for Learning	Includes a template for setting out online safety policies
Internet Matters	Help for parents on how to keep their children safe online
Parent Zone	Help for parents on how to keep their children safe online
Childnet International	Guidance for schools on cyberbullying
PSHE Association	Guidance and useful teaching resources covering online safety issues, including pornography and the sharing of sexual images
Educate Against Hate	Practical advice for parents, teachers and governors on protecting children from extremism and radicalisation
GOV.UK - The use of social media for online radicalisation	A brief note for schools on how social media is used to encourage travel to Syria and Iraq
UK Council for Child Internet Safety (UKCCIS)	The UK Council of Child Internet Safety's website provides: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Sexting advice• Online Safety: Questions for Governing Bodies• Education for a connected world framework
NSPCC	NSPCC advice for schools and colleges
NSPCC: net-aware	NSPCC advice for parents
Common Sense Media	Independent reviews, age ratings and other information about Movies, Books, Video Games, Graphic Novels, etc for children and parents
GOV.UK Searching, screening and confiscation at school	Guidance to schools on searching children in schools, and confiscating items such as mobile phones.
London Grid for Learning	Advice, case studies and resources for online safety.

Gooseberry Bush Day Nursery

Computing Parent's Guide

Nursery Website:

Our nursery website contains a range of information and useful links to find out more about the curriculum and how to keep your child safe online. Online safety is at the heart of our E-Safety Policy and is taught every term as a minimum. Please visit <http://gooseberrybush.org/> and locate the Safeguarding tab to find out more.

Advice for Parents:

Useful information from ChildNet International grouped into four main areas of risk: Conduct, Content, Contact and Commercialism.

Common Sense Media:

A really useful website which enables you to check the age rating as well as read reviews for Apps and games your child may be using. This website can also provide advice when it comes to films, TV, and books—all tailored to the specific age group for your child.

How to keep your child safe online:

Link to the current issue of the Digital Parenting Magazine on <https://parentzone.org.uk/projects/digital-parenting-magazine>. This magazine is updated during the Autumn Term and the latest version will be available in PDF format on our website, and a small number of paper copies in the reception area.

Think you know:

Another useful website, grouped by age, enabling you to access online safety support for your child in an age appropriate manner.

Parents Guides to Social Media

This section includes a series of PDF files providing further information and guidance for you, and your child, covering a range of social media Apps and websites.

WHISPER

Whisper, also found via the Online Safeguarding tab on our website, is a reporting tool that can be used by pupils, parents, relatives or the wider community to alert the school to any online safety concerns they may have. This may be completed anonymously if desired; however, there is also an option for contact details to be provided so that we are able to get in touch with you and follow up on any concerns.

Social Media and Staff

Please don't be offended if staff decline friend requests from yourself on social media platforms such as Facebook, Twitter, etc.

This is in line with the Gooseberry Bush's Code of Conduct.

Screen Time

While we appreciate the benefits of technology and the importance of children being 21st century learners who know how to safely navigate the online world, we are conscious that some children are also spending an increasing amount of time online or using tablets.

There is a great deal of information which you can read which make sensible and practical suggestions regarding this such as:

<https://www.techadvisor.co.uk/feature/digital-home/how-much-screen-time-for-kids-3520917/> if you would like to find out more.

For more information, please visit our Safeguarding Page of our website: <http://gooseberrybush.org/>